

How long can a disposable locker last

What is the shelf life of Loctite 242 blue threadlocker?

I was surprised to learn that the shelf life of Loctite 242 blue threadlocker is only 2 years from date of manufacture, for an unopened tube. Once you open the tube, shelf life is reduced to one year. I have a small unused tube manufactured in 2015, still in its blister pack, that I bought in May 2016.

What happens if the lockers are not full?

If the lockers are not full, then I would imagine it sits there until you pick it up, or until the next Amazon 'refill' employee decides that your 'old' item is not being picked up and therefore they send it back so that they have room for others.

Are metal lockers worth it?

Metal lockers have been the standard for a long time due to their durability, but they've received some criticism over the years because of the constant upkeep and maintenance that they require.

Do metal lockers need maintenance?

However, as most facility managers have learned, metal lockers are actually susceptible to a variety of factors and issues that can result in costly and recurring maintenance. HDPE requires very little maintenance over the years, resulting in less costs and a longer lasting material. Metal lockers are susceptible to mold growth.

Should you choose a metal or HDPE locker?

But in order to make the decision, you need to learn the benefits of both materials. Both metal and HDPE lockers provide a strong construct that can last a long time and perform effectively for years.

How long does a pantry seal last?

That is not intended as a date for safety purposes, but rather as an inventory management date to help ensure that your pantry stock remains high quality. The long and short of it is, in theory the seal on your home canned goods should be good forever, and as long as your seal is good the contents are safe.
